Community is the Strategy

This year's theme, Community Is the Strategy, recognizes that lasting public safety is built through trusted relationships, collaboration, and investment in people.

Streetworkers are trusted community professionals who support people impacted by violence and poverty, helping them access resources, opportunities, and brighter futures. Today, streetwork is a growing component of community violence intervention efforts nationwide.

By sponsoring the conference, your organization helps strengthen this vital workforce and support the professionals creating safer, healthier communities every day.
